The District's Guide to Digital Media
and Events for SAAM 2018

This action guide is brought to you by:

DCCESV
DC COALITION TO END SEXUAL VIOLENCE

This material was produced by Men Can Stop Rape under 2018-DCCESV-01, awarded by the Office of Victim Services and Justice Grants, Executive Office of the Mayor, District of Columbia. The opinions, findings, and conclusions or recommendations expressed in this website are those of the contributors and do not necessarily represent the official position or policies of the Executive Office of the Mayor.

Social media can be a great tool to engage local communities in raising awareness this April. This guide will provide you with different posts, dates, ideas, and tools to use on your organization's social pages throughout the month.

Campaign Hashtag: #DCSAAM

Short for DC Sexual Assault Awareness Month, #DCSAAM is the official hashtag for sexual assault awareness activities and social posts within the District. We encourage you to use the hashtag to share your group's events throughout April and follow it to see how others are getting involved.

Follow Us Online

Be sure to follow the DC Coalition to End Sexual Violence to engage with us socially to stay up to date on activities and events throughout the month.

#TealTuesday

On April 10th, DC organizations and individuals will be encouraged to wear teal as a sign of solidarity with survivors of sexual assault.

When you share your photos be sure to use the #TealTuesday hashtag and tag us on Instagram @DCCESV.

And be sure to check Snapchat if you're downtown for our Teal Tuesday filter!

Below are some posts you can use throughout Sexual Assault Awareness Month to engage your followers. You can also check out our custom DCSAAM profile tool so you can update your profiles in solidarity.

Community-Specific Facts About Sexual Assault

Inclusion Statement:

Sexual Assault Awareness Month (SAAM) is about raising awareness, learning how to prevent and end sexual violence, and supporting victim-survivors. In keeping with this goal, we ask everyone participating in SAAM to remember that these statistics are one way we can seek to respect the whole person. We value emotional, social, and academic learning; developing connections among people with different views; creating a more participatory community; and recognizing all the expertise and insight in our diverse and global city. SAAM is an opportunity to occupy space and collaborate in equitable ways. It is about honoring all people and their ability to prevent and end gender-based violence, regardless of race, color, creed, ethnicity, religion, genders, gender identity or expression, age, sex, sexual orientation, national origin, physical ability, citizen status, veteran status, marital status, or HIV status and valuing their story, knowledge, and worth.

General

- Every 98 seconds an American is sexually assaulted. Every eight minutes a child is sexually assaulted. Only six of every 1,000 perpetrators will be incarcerated for committing sexual assault. (RAINN website)
- 70% of child sex offenders have between one and nine victims, while 20% have 10 to 40 victims. (Darkness to Light- Juveniles who commit sex offenses against minors. 2009 report by Juvenile Justice Bulletin, OJJDP, Office of Justice Programs)
- In 2016 only 23% of sexual assaults were reported to law enforcement. (Bureau of Justice Statistics December 2017 Report)
- In 2016 39% of sexual assault was perpetrated by someone known to the victim-survivor. 33% were assaulted by a current or former intimate partner. 19% victim-survivors were assaulted by a stranger. (NCVS December 2017 report)

Immigrants and Refugees

- According to Rape Response Services, married immigrant women experience higher levels of physical and sexual abuse than unmarried immigrant women, 59.5% compared to 49.8%, respectively.
- According to the National Immigrant Women's Advocacy Project, immigrant women are less likely to report their experiences of abuse than U.S. born women because language barriers between victims and police officers significantly affect the outcome of victims' interactions with police and deter many immigrant and limited English proficient (LEP) women from reporting abuse and one of the most significant factors affecting a woman's decision to report abuse is her immigration status.
- According to the National Immigrant Women's Advocacy Project, a study conducted among high school aged girls found immigrant girls are almost twice as likely as their non-immigrant peers to have experienced recurring incidents of sexual assault.

Community-Specific Facts About Sexual Assault

Incarcerated Persons

- 80,600 inmates reported being sexually assaulted in a one-year study conducted from 2011-2012. (RAINN website- Bureau of Justice Statistics 2013 report)
- According to a Bureau of Justice Statistics study released in 2013, approximately 200,000 prisoners in the United States prisons and jails face sexual abuse annually. (PLEASE NOTE THERE IS A SIGNIFICANT DISPARITY IN THESE BJS FINDINGS)
- A 2016 study by the Vera Institute of Justice found that 86% of women in jail had experienced sexual violence in their lifetime.

LGBTQIA

- According to FORGE, multiple studies indicate that over 50% of transgender people have experienced sexual violence at some point in their lives. This rate is nearly double (1 in 3 girls) or triple (1 in 6 boys) the commonly reported rates of sexual abuse.
- According to RAINN, 21% of TGQN (transgender, genderqueer, nonconforming) college students have been sexually assaulted compared to 18% of non-TGQN females, and 4% of non-TGQN males.
- 47% of bisexual men and 40% of gay men experienced sexual violence other than rape, compared to 21% of heterosexual men. (NISVS 2010 report "2010 Findings on Victimization by Sexual Orientation")

LGBTQIA (cont'd)

- According to Rape Response Services, the National Coalition of Anti-Violence Programs reports that lesbian, gay, bisexual, and queer people were three times more likely to report sexual violence and/or harassment compared to heterosexual people.

Military

- In U.S. Military academies: Approximately 60% of cadets and midshipmen experienced at least one type of sexual victimization. 86% of female cadets and midshipmen were sexually victimized. 42% of male cadets and midshipmen were sexually victimized. (Snyder, J. A., Fisher, B. S., Scherer, H. L., & Daigle, L. E., "Unsafe in the Camouflage Tower: Sexual Victimization and Perceptions of Military Academy Leadership", Journal of Interpersonal Violence, 2012.)
- 6,300 cases of military sexual assault were reported in 2016. However, only approximately one in three sexual assaults in the military are ever reported. (WTOP report on January, 8, 2018)
- During FY14 18,900 members of the military experienced unwanted sexual contact. (RAINN website- DOD FY14 report issued in 2015)

Community-Specific Facts About Sexual Assault

People With Disabilities

- According to the Washington Coalition of Sexual Assault Programs, 83% of women with disabilities will be sexually assaulted in their lifetime; and only 3% of sexual abuse cases involving people with developmental disabilities are ever reported.
- A recent study surveying the rate of sexual assault amongst national universities indicated that 31.6% of female undergraduates with a disability were sexual assault victim-survivors while the correlating rate for undergraduate females without a disability was 18.4%. (National Council on Disability report “Not on the Radar: Sexual Assault of College Students with Disabilities” January, 30 2018)
- According to the Washington Coalition of Sexual Assault Programs, 54% of boys who are Deaf have been sexually abused, compared to 10% of boys who are hearing; and 50% of girls who are Deaf have been sexually abused, compared to 25% of girls who are hearing.

Racial Identity

- According to the Asian Pacific Institute on Gender Based Violence, 56% of Filipinas and 64% of Indian and Pakistani women had experienced sexual violence by an intimate partner.
- According to the Women of Color Network, approximately 40% of Black women report coercive contact of a sexual nature by age 18; and the National Violence Against Women Survey found that 18.8% of African American women reported rape in their lifetime.

- According to the U.S. Centers for Disease Control and Prevention, among adult women surveyed in 2010, 26.9% of American Indian/Alaska Natives, 22% of non-Hispanic blacks, 18.8% of non-Hispanic whites, 14.6% of Hispanics, and 35.5% of women of multiple races experienced an attempted or a completed rape at some time in their lives.
- According to RAINN, American Indians are twice as likely to experience a rape/sexual assault compared to all races; and 41% of sexual assaults against American Indians are committed by a stranger, 34% by an acquaintance, and 25% by an intimate or family member.

Youth

- According to the U.S. Centers for Disease Control and Prevention, 42.2% of female rape victims were first raped before age 18.
- According to Rape Response Services, persons under 18 years of age account for 67% of all sexual assault victimizations reported to law enforcement agencies; children under twelve years old account for 34% of those cases; and children under six years old account for 14% of those cases.
- According to Rape Response Services, more than one-third of women who were raped as minors were also raped as adults, compared to 14% without an early rape history.
